

Fall to your knees
Tell me you're fine
I'm lost on you
So what I will depend on is just mine

But what's it worth if I can't listen?
What's it worth if you don't try and understand?
So what if I just feel a little deeper?
For now at least try and understand

For now, for now

Give me your time
And each misstep
I'll hold my own
And not take comfort in the things I should forget

But what's it worth if I can't listen?
What's it worth if you don't try and understand?
So what if I just feel a little deeper?
For now at least try and understand
For now, for now
For now, for now

But what's it worth if I can't listen?
What's it worth if you don't try and understand?
So what if I just feel a little deeper?
For now at least try and understand
For now, for now
For now, for now
