Wanting

Gordi

'Cause once again, I am found wanting
I am found wanting, I am found wanting
And once again, I am found wanting you

Feel like I've played this before
Resentment playing desire
But I can't understand why we
Love playing with fire

Pull me closer towards you
And say you don't feel enough
Or at least just let me go
'Cause I've had enough

And once again, I am found wanting
I am found wanting, I am found wanting
And once again, I am found wanting you

Feel like I've played this before
The wound just hasn't scarred
But I don't know how this ends
If it never starts

I don't know how to read you
Now I feel emptier still
And I just need to let you go
But I don't think I will

'Cause once again, I am found wanting
I am found wanting, I am found wanting
And once again, I am found wanting you

And once again, I am found wanting
I am found wanting, I am found wanting
And once again, I am found wanting you

And he said, won't you come play with fire for me
Until your heart's desire's complete
How can you ask and watch me burn

'Cause once again, I'm found wanting
But once again, I'm found wanting you

And once again, I'm found wanting
I am found wanting, I am found wanting
But once again, I'm found wanting you
I am found wanting, I am found wanting

And once again, I'm found wanting
I am found wanting, I am found wanting
But once again, I'm found wanting you

Feel like I've played this before
Resentment playing desire
But I can't understand why we
Love playing with fire
