Look at me for a sec, don't be too awkward Don't worry, your heart wants me so be honest You knew since you saw me first I hope that you become sure of yourself, that's all

That the background picture in your phone is me
That you will hold my empty hand
It's just that you are the only one, out of many things
It's just your heart you know you know I'm all about you

I hug you tightly so we can be closer So we can't be apart I hope we can be closer to each other I hope that you understand my heart

Little more Little more I want you baby Little more Little more one more step Little more Little more I want you baby Little more Little more one more step I don't have to worry that you see us more casually Forget it, I think I'm way more serious I can see you once and walk past but
No I want to keep you by my side and see you

I want you to be the one to pick out my clothes
That when I walk this path, you'll be next to me
It's just that you are the only one, out of many things
It's just your heart you know you know I'm all about you

I hug you tightly so we can be closer So we can't be apart So we can be closer to each other I hope that you understand my heart

I keep wanting to go, just you and me (yeah yeah yeah..)
I want to do everything, with you and me
My head is full of you, I want to hug you now

So we can be closer to each other
I hug you tightly so we can't be apart
I hope we can be closer to each other
I hope that you understand my heart
