

Blue Skies

Goth Babe

You know what he wants
Another break in the clouds
The water rises
The ocean offers something profound

Been running with the tides, you'll be running back, running back
Running with the tides, you'll be running back, running back
Running with the tides, you'll be running back, running back
Running with the tides, you'll be running back, running back

You know what he wants
Another break in the clouds
The water rises
The ocean offers something profound

You can't keep flying in circles
Not as what were like before
I know your favorite was never
I'm trying to show you what's yours
So hop off the fence, no middle ground
All I'm hearing is blue skies around me
I got enough sunshine, plenty
Young boy, you're a baby, only twenty
And now we got what you need here
And got what you want here, blue skies around me
Got enough sunshine, plenty
Young boy, you're a baby, only twenty

Been running with the tides, you'll be running back, running back
Running with the tides, you'll be running back, running back
Running with the tides, you'll be running back, running back
Running with the tides, you'll be running back, running back