

Soon I'll dream again and stop waking up
You got me waking through the night time
Darling and that's enough
When that time arrives, I feel the light abide
You got me still on my hands and knees all through the night

And that's alright
And that's alright
And that's alright

Soon I'll dream again and start waking up
You got me waking through the night time
Darling and that's enough
When that time arrives, I feel the light abide
You got me still on my hands and knees all through the night

And that's alright
And that's alright
And that's alright
