

Monostereo Creature

Gothminister

In the days of the ancient times
A betrayal did occur
Black winds would come from the east
And threaten the Empire

They tried to bring us down
But we are still in control
Tonight I won, and now
The dead dance, and I stand tall

We belong in the Dark
We are one till the end of time
But we all had a dream
To be glorious and free
And I will eat your flesh
And I will drink your blood
In the darkest of the night
In the darkest of the night

They tried to bring us down
But we are still in control
Tonight I won, and now
The dead dance, and I stand tall

I will wonder on
Until the day I die
Generations will go on
For each new King that is born

They tried to bring us down
But we are still in control
Tonight I won, and now
The dead dance, and I stand tall

I need to bring back my army of dead
To fight once more
