

We Live Another Day

Gothminister

The night is black and we are ready to go
We made our catch, and we'll return to our home
Accused of witchcraft, now her head will roll
They tried to break us, but we're still in control

Fears
In our life
The dark and the wicked shall die

So
We live another day
Darkness will be gone for now
Victorious we will arrive
So
We live another day
The sky is red
The moon is pale
At the end of the darkest of days
We pray

The magic spells, calling upon evil spirits
But our Kingdom will not change our mind
Ours is the Kingdom and the power forever
And for eternity we'll fight your kind

Fears
In our life
The dark and the wicked shall die

So
We live another day
Darkness will be gone for now
Victorious we will arrive
So
We live another day
The sky is red
The moon is pale
At the end of the darkest of days
We pray

So
We live another day
The sky is red
The moon is pale
At the end of the darkest of days
We pray
