

Forsaken Savior

Gov't Mule

How does it feel to wake up in all your glory
Maybe you can recall that feeling now
Block out the memories of what happened overnight
Pretend that people aren't rioting in the streets
Pretend they didn't instill you with fear

Forsaken savior, where do we go from here

Do you have your sights set on another journey
Or is it finally time to throw in the towel
Are you scared the world will never sing your praises
Do you bury your head in the sand
Do you step up and take it like a man

Forsaken savior, it's all in your hand

If you find your way back to reality
I think you'll find it really hasn't changed that much

Forsaken savior, forsaken savior

Maybe you're out of touch
Isn't the whole story that you don't stop
Never stop believing in the message
We'd all be king if it were easy
But so few can take the pressure of the truth
So few can just refuse to fade away
Forsaken savior, where do we go today

Forsaken savior, forsaken savior
Maybe it's time to pray
