

New World Blues

Gov't Mule

Life is not a compromise
Though it often turns to this
Unintended suicide
As if our fate's sealed with a kiss

We're all taught to rise above
Can't let ourselves be hurt by love

So tell me what I have to lose
I'm ready to feel these new world blues

Dreams are only of a new world
Instead of making this one right
But 'Run away' is not the answer
Still we all want to take flight

Never knowing what we seek
Think our pain is so unique

So tell me what I have to lose
I'm ready to feel these new world blues

Heroes are not to cry
So hold your head up high
The future is ours to see
So come on and rescue me

So tell me what I have to lose
I'm ready to feel these new world blues
So tell me what I have to lose
I'm ready to feel these new world blues

Life is not a compromise
