

And I Run And I Run

Grabbitz

Have you changed yet? Got a fictional smile
I'm the same mess that I've been this whole while
Two faces, one sleeps while the other's awake, ayy
And I can't just do what I wanna do
When the back of me is the front of you
When one half of me is apathy
The other half is the one loving you, oh

And I run, and I run
As far as I can go
Yeah, I run, I run
As far as I can go
Until it's all gone
Until it's all gone

I put a price on something, I didn't know what it's worth
Always last to the race, and somehow finish it first
I guess I don't need the furs, I think this rabbit is cursed
I can't rehearse a monologue when it's absent of words
"So have you changed yet?" I hear it a million times a year
If not with their mouths, stares are easier on the ears
Your daggers I gotta hear, they're cutting me loud and clear
They mean nothing and there'll never be something I gotta fear

And I run, and I run
As far as I can go
Yeah, I run, I run
As far as I can go
Until it's all gone
Until it's all gone

And I run, and I run
As far as I can go
Yeah, I run, I run
As far as I can go

And I run, and I run
As far as I can go
Yeah, I run, I run
As far as I can go
Until it's all gone
Until it's all gone

And I run, and I run
As far as I can go
Yeah, I run, I run
As far as I can go
