

Another Form Of "Goodbye"

Grabbitz

You, using my words like it's weaponry
Now it's like 2 of you against 1 me
I fight my way out til the end comes
Then I feel guilty and then some
Keeping my heart on the outside beat
Killing myself with a chest bump
None of our math coming out right
It's only one number we messed up

You took my love and you threw it away
I took your love and I treat it the same
This is another reason we're strange
I get choked up when I think of your name

Using my words like it's weaponry
Now it's like 2 of you against 1 me
I fight my way out til the end comes
Then I feel guilty and then some
Keeping my heart on the outside beat
Killing myself with a chest bump
None of our math coming out right
It's only one number we messed up

You took my love and you threw it away
I took your love and I treat it the same
This is another reason we're strange
I get choked up when I think of your name
You like the sun when it's red in the sky
I like the brightest a yellow could find
This is another form of "goodbye"
Another form of "goodbye"

This is another form of "goodbye"
This is another form of "goodbye"

You took my love and you threw it away
I take your love and I treat it the same
This is another reason we're strange
I get choked up when I think of your name
You like the sun when it's red in the sky
I like the brightest a yellow could find
This is another form of "goodbye"

This is another form of "goodbye"
This is another form of "goodbye"

This is another form of "goodbye"
This is another form of "goodbye"