

Misunderstood

Grabbitz

Wasting my time waiting for the perfect drug
But I don't think it's coming, and it never was
I wish that talking to you could be painless
But I'm the only one here speaking my own language
My canvas can't escape from being painted
In red, in red

The rain is drying
The cloudy skies stopped crying
But no one noticed
I think I'm the only one

Spinning around in a vicious circle
Break me out, I wish you would
Why do I feel so misunderstood? (Ooh)
All my life, I tried to shake it
Being who I knew I should
Instead, I'm feeling so misunderstood, understood

Misunderstood
Misunderstood

Strangers know me better than I know myself
These windows stay frosted
I can't see from the inside out
Maybe in another day, maybe in another life
Maybe it will stay the same always
Empty hallways

Spinning around in a vicious circle
Break me out, I wish you would
Why do I feel so misunderstood? (Ooh)
All my life, I tried to shake it
Being who I knew I should
Instead, I'm feeling so misunderstood, understood
Misunderstood

(It's been so long)
(It's been so long)
Spinning around in a vicious circle
Break me out, I wish you would
Why do I feel so misunderstood? (Ooh)

Spinning around in a vicious circle
Break me out, I wish you would
Why do I feel so misunderstood? (Ooh)
All my life, I tried to shake it
Being who I knew I should
Instead, I'm feeling so misunderstood, understood

Misunderstood

It's been so long, long
It's been so long, long
