

Regret

Grabbitz

If I really focus
I can hear you breathe a mile away
Would you even notice?
If I packed a bag, decide to stay
Will I ever leave
Or will I become what I always was?
The noise will be
My mind will explode like it always does

You can make me blow my head
Till everything I know's all over you
Till I'm overflowing red
And I have no regrets on you

'Cause it would be a waste of time
Overthinking all the change I can't undo
But I can let it go instead
It's why I have no regrets on you

It's why I have no regrets on you
It's why I have no regrets on you

You can make me blow my head
Till everything I know's all over you
Till I'm overflowing red
And I have no regrets on you

There's no going back now
Your footprints on my life are way too deep
It's so easy to track down
It's like you dipped 'em right in wet concrete

Will I ever leave?
Or will I become what I always was?
And always will be
My mind'll explode like it always does

You can make me blow my head
Till everything I know's all over you
Till I'm overflowing red
And I have no regrets on you
'Cause it would be a waste of time
Overthinking all the change I can't undo
But now I can't let it go instead
It's why I have no regrets on you
