

Judgement day is close to coming
I'm not scared of no one
I'm not gonna start running
I been here not changing nothing, we go to the same place so why all the rushing?
You remind me of a good time loving, the night is still young and I'm wanting to start something
I'm starting to go nuts and this artist shit's enough to abandon all trust and start to say "fuck it"

All of my friends have gone to hell
I'm on my way down there as well
This is the new me, can't you tell?
Rest in peace to my old self

Now that I'm well on my way,
I can sell all of the hate in my heart and start living
One life, it might end tonight
I'm not gonna play nice with anyone playing with me
You remind me of a cheap thrill, hundred dollar bill quick bump in the road and I keep plugging and those that know me co-wrote the story
You skip to the last page, my last words are "fuck it"

All of my friends have gone to hell
I'm on my way down there as well
This is the new me, can't you tell?
Rest in peace to my old self

All of my faith has gone away
There ain't no cross to set me straight
Got me a new soul I won't sell
Rest in peace to my old self
Rest in peace to my old self

All of my friends have gone to hell
I'm on my way down there as well
This is the new me, can't you tell?
Rest in peace to my old self

All of my faith has gone away
There ain't no cross to set me straight
Got me a new soul I won't sell
Rest in peace to my old self
Rest in peace to my old self
