

Is anybody home?
'Cause since you've been away I built this castle on my own
But it's such a lonely throne
I'd rather have you crashing in the waves are all I know

I built my walls and always thought they'd stay
You come right in and wash it all away
If you ever knew what it took to make
But you never do, so you wash it all away

Sandcastle love
Can't get enough
Sandcastle love
I can't get enough

Now's a good time, now's a good time, now's a good
Now's a good time for you to crash in baby
Now's a good time, now's a good time, now's a good
Now's a good time for you to crash in baby
Now's a good time, now's a good time, now's a good
Now's a good time for you to crash in baby
Now's a good time, now's a good time, now's a good
Now's a good time for you to crash in baby

I built my walls and always thought they'd stay
You come right in and wash it all away
If you ever knew what it took to make
But you never do, so you wash it all away

I built my walls and always thought they'd stay
You come right in and wash it all away
If you ever knew what it took to make
But you never do, so you wash it all away

Sandcastle love
Can't get enough
Sandcastle love
I can't get enough

Now's a good time, now's a good time, now's a good
Now's a good time for you to crash in baby
Now's a good time, now's a good time, now's a good
Now's a good time for you to crash in baby
