

Someone Else

Grabbitz

I wake up in the bed you made
The one where you're supposed to lay with me
I smell you on the pillowcase
But don't see your face, and that's okay with me
I never thought I'd see the day (See the day)
I'd see you as somebody I could hate
I guess that's just the price I pay
For the blood-red flags that I walked past every day

Who are you when I'm not looking?
You're like an angel sent from hell
Despite those eyes that hooked me
When I'm not looking, you are someone else

Someone else
Someone

Who are you when I'm not looking?
I doubt you even know yourself
Despite those lies that took me
When I'm not looking, you are someone else

Hey
Is it me? Did I fly you away?
Am I wrong? Are you not who I say?
If I call, which one of you will answer
Anyway?

Who are you when I'm not looking?
You're like an angel sent from hell
Despite those eyes that hooked me
When I'm not looking, you are someone else

Who are you when I'm not looking? (When I'm not looking)
I doubt you even know yourself
Despite those lies that took me
When I'm not looking, you are someone else

Someone
When I'm not looking, you are someone else