

Another Night

Grace Davies

I got emotional last night
You came home with a different look in your eyes
And I pointed the finger
I put the blame to exist where it didn't
Turns out I'm a paranoid mess when I'm in love
Sit me down and you tell me you've had quite enough
And you look like you mean it
You've said it before but I've never quite seen it

Wasted time, now terrified
I could lose it all, lose it all
Setting fires and crossing wires
Just to lose it all, but why I'll never know

You're letting go of my hand (He's letting go of her hand)
You said that you'd never leave me
Can't we start over again (Even if it's pretend)
I'll be better this time, believe me
Why don't you put up a fight (Why don't you put up a fight)
I don't need you to go easy (Easy)
Just give me another night (Give her another night)
You don't need to forgive me, just give me

Another night, another night, ah-ah
Another night, another night, ah-ah
Another night, another night, ah-ah
Another night

I throw my eyes to the ceiling, I
Shout out and I scream into the dark of the night
But the silence is deafening
Guess it's better than the turmoil I'm recollecting
Clothes in a suitcase and he's straight out the door
It's on the news that there's one hell of a storm in store
It's getting personal and I'm past emotional
I'm on my knees, I'm so damn weak

You're letting go of my hand (He's letting go of her hand)
You said that you'd never leave me
Can't we start over again (Even if it's pretend)
I'll be better this time, believe me
Why don't you put up a fight (Why don't you put up a fight)
I don't need you to go easy (Easy)
Just give me another night (Give her another night)
You don't need to forgive me, just give me

Another night, another night, ah-ah
Another night, another night, ah-ah
Another night, another night, ah-ah
Another night

Won't you give me just another night
Won't you give me just another night
Won't you give me just another night
