

somebody

Grace Davies

Ain't got my head in the clouds
But when I love you, I'll love you loud
Ain't got it all figured it out
But when I hold you, I'll hold you proud

I feel a million miles away
And every step I take
I get no closer

Maybe I'm too broken
Too much of a burden
No one can fix me
I still need somebody
Forget the words I've spoken
Maybe I'm still learning
No one can fix me
I still need somebody

If you get lost in the crowd
I swear I'll find you, have no doubt
If you can't get off the ground
I promise to love you, I'll love you loud

I feel a million miles away
From that perfect day
But I'm still no closer

Maybe I'm too broken
Too much of a burden
No one can fix me
I still need somebody
Forget the words I've spoken
Maybe I'm still learning
No one can fix me
I still need somebody

I'm ready to love somebody
I'm ready to want somebody
I'm ready to trust somebody
Like you
I'm ready to know somebody
I'm ready to touch somebody
Tell me, could that somebody
Be you?

Am I naive
To be for searching for something that
I've never seen
Oh, but I believe
That somebody's out there
Somebody's out there for me

So maybe I'm not broken
Not too much of a burden
You don't need to fix me

Maybe I'm still learning
No one can fix me

I'm ready to love somebody
Like you
Be you?
