

Right Now

Grace Gaustad

I don't know what I'm more afraid of loving you or loving nothing
I could only see it one way but what if it's not what I wanted
Can't take it back and I'm more afraid of that and you'll be honored
Didn't waste my time all these years as a kid who just knew how to flaunt it

Are you gonna come with me when I choose to lose myself?
Are you gonna stand and watch as I turn into some else?
Promise me you will pull me back if I begin to fall to hell
Promise me you will never let me lose who I am...

Right now
Right now
Right now, right now
Right, right, right now

I know I can run my mouth better than anybody else
But I just want to live out loud going farther, love myself
And I know if I told you tomorrow I didn't want it, you'll probably be happy
But I'm sorry, I can't do that, mama always told me not to do the liking

Are you gonna come with me when I choose to lose myself?
Are you gonna stand and watch as I turn into some else?
Promise me you will pull me back if I begin to fall to hell
Promise me you will never let me lose who I am...

Right now
Right now

And I wish more than anything this wasn't who I was
I'll give up everything if I could learn to love
But it's not what I'm meant to do
So please just come along and I
Promise that one day I'll love you like I love a song

I don't know what I'm more afraid of loving you or loving nothing
I could only see it one way but what if it's not what I wanted
