

Tiny Light

Grace Potter And The Nocturnals

What will come of us today
What we need we cannot say
Its been a long long time since Ive been so afraid
As we all fall down its hard to see a brighter day but

I see a tiny light like a flashbulb sparkle in the night
I see a tiny light telling everyone to hold on tight

What will come of all our pride
This house of stone has crumbled from the inside
Its been a long long war now the battle is drawing near Closer and closer till it whispers in my ear

I see a tiny light like a flashbulb sparkle in the night
I see a tiny light telling everyone to hold on tight

Bring me back the streets of gold
Give me something warm to hold
Give me love and only love and we will see it shining from above

I see a tiny light like a flashbulb sparkle in the night
I see a tiny light telling everyone to hold on tight
I see a tiny light like a flashbulb sparkle in the night
I see a tiny light telling everyone to hold on tight

I see a tiny light but its not going to shine without a fight
