

Stray

Grace VanderWaal

I wanna write a song
One that can explain my loss
I wanna write a song
That you can hear and

Know how my heart yearns
And how my insides churn
And how my cheeks burn
From the weekly storm
And how my face turns
Before you return to the wall
And then down the floor

I keep only seeing rain
I will say no
But you keep crawling in my brain
I wanna get lost, run away
In the dark is where I will stray

I gotta write a song
But I wanna feel my words
And I keep getting it all wrong
Think it out, write it out, rip it out
Throw it all to the wall

And I keep only seeing rain
I will say no
But you keep crawling in my brain
I wanna get lost, run away
In the dark is where I

I wanna feel the way I used to
I wanna move the way I used to groove
I wanna feel the way I used to
I wanna move the way I used to groove

But I keep only seeing rain
I'll keep saying no
But you'll find your way into my brain
I wanna get lost, run away
In the dark is where I

I keep only seeing rain
I will say no
But you keep crawling in my brain
I wanna get lost, run away
In the dark is where I'll stray

Wanna feel the way I used to
I wanna move the way I used to groove
I wanna feel the way I used to
