

Crying Skies

Grace

Everybody's going through their own shit
I'm broken and homesick, and I get high
I feel like my dreams been stolen
Can't help what I don't see, eyes wide shut
I don't know, the feeling is hopeless
Can't breathe when you're on my chest, 'cause I feel like
Everybody's going through their own shit
They don't care, gotta hold it in

The sky is cryin'
I'm home alone
The sky is cryin'
The mirror tells the truth

They say be patient, but I'm tired
Can't you see it in my eyes?
I would listen but you're lying
Fill my head with lullabies
I'm only honest when I'm writing
Naked, drinking wine
The average'd rather die
They'll get the message in due time, ooh

The sky is cryin' (sky, sky)
I'm home alone
The sky is cryin' (sky, sky)
The mirror tells the truth

Can't fit in 'cause I'm standin' out
Hope my momma and my daddy proud
Thankful for my family now
Fell off, but I'm steady now
And I'm good standin' all alone
Though I hate the way I am sometimes
Can't change even if I try

'Cause the sky is cryin' (sky, sky)
I'm home alone
I said the sky is cryin' (sky, sky)
The mirror tells the truth
