

Sometimes

I wish that you were a better liar
Or maybe I was more gullible
Or maybe you were just, I don't know, loyal
Likewise
I'm guessing you wish that you were that
Since I found out all that shit you did
You made the same old damn promises

And I really wanna believe in them, darlin'
But man, I just can't do that shit to my pride

So just save your breath
I've already heard all these excuses
And I ain't gonna listen this time
I'm gonna try care less
I know silence is better than bullshit
And boy, you're never one to be quiet
So I won't let you back in my mind

'Cause I guess I know that if I do
I go right back to good memories
All the days that we spent and it was all sunny
I'd be forgetting about the storms
All the falls and the arguments
All of the same old lies that you say

And I really wanna believe in you, darlin'
But man, I just can't do that shit to my pride

So just save your breath (save your breath)
I've already heard all these excuses
And I ain't gonna listen this time
I'm gonna try care less (try care less)
I know silence is better than bullshit
And boy you're never one to be quiet
So I won't let you back in my mind

Even though I find it hard
Boy, I let you into my bed and my heart
You were the one who said let down your guard
And now, I'm just building it up again
Always as always, I gave it my all
And once again I'm the one who takes the fall
So I, I won't do this no more

So just save your breath (save your breath)
I've already heard all these excuses
And I ain't gonna listen this time
I'm gonna try care less (try care less)
I know silence is better than bullshit
And boy you're never one to be quiet
So I won't let you back in my mind
