

Packing It Up

Gracie Abrams

I hope that you get everything you could ask for
The cold side of your pillow, a real break for once
Good peppermint tea with cool wind on the drive home
With no traffic for miles, for spring to come

I swear that I wasn't looking for much
But that's just when you happened
That's right when you happened
Got so damn close to packing it up
But that's just when you happened
And then you happened
(Then you happened)

Now I'm red in the face, and shy all of a sudden
You move, I move, it's something, you fit perfectly
And replace every game, you push none of my buttons
And hold me through the morning, kinda new for me

I swear that I wasn't looking for much
But that's just when you happened
That's right when you happened
I got so damn close to packing it up
But that's right when you happened
Mm, then you happened
Mm, then you happened
(Mm)

I hope that you get my dark sense of humor
Sunsets in the summer with my family
Don't stop talking to me, maybe stay here forever
We could die here together, I'd do it happily

I'll hold you, I'll know you
I'll never leave out the back door
And I'd love to complete you
Hope you get all you could ask for

'Cause I swear that I wasn't looking for much
But that's just when you happened
That's right when you happened
Got so damn close to packing it up
But that's right when you happened
Mm, then you happened
And I swear that I wasn't looking for someone
But then you happened
Mm, then you happened
Got so damn close to packing it up
But that's when you happened
And then you happened
