

We played grown-up
Drowned in bathtubs
But you never opened up
And I never said enough

Thunder warning
Should've called it
But we never gave it up

Now I know it wasn't right, wasn't right
We pretended to hold it
Went quiet
And we blamed it on the time
On the time
On the timing, we broke it
Went silent

Slept on floors of
Angry mornings
But you never let me in
So I stopped wanting it
Tearing every wall and
Breaking down the doors
Kept bending every rule
Till all of me was yours
And pushing things aside
But nothing ever worked
Worked

Now I know it wasn't right
Wasn't right
We pretended to hold it
Went quiet
And we blamed it on the time
On the time
On the timing, we broke it
Went silent

Tearing every wall and
Breaking down the doors
Kept bending every rule
Till all of me was yours
And pushing things aside
But nothing ever worked
Worked

Now I know it wasn't right
Wasn't right
We pretended to hold it
Went quiet
And we blamed it on the time
On the time
On the timing, we broke it
Went silent
