

Callie

Grady

It's in the vibe that she puts out
It's in the couple words out of her mouth
Sitting on the couch, she said "hey, I'm Callie"

Wow

Since then, it's all I've thought about
It just happened, I'm still looking at her now
She's recent to town by the sound of it

Callie's sitting in a dress at the party playing chess
I don't know much else about her but I'm already obsessed
Blue eyed baby with a smile that could switch up my plans
She's got me in the palm of her hands

The sea's high, still I'm on a boat
With an army I don't know how we float
And nowhere to go
But fuck it I'm spinning, whoa

I'm Jack Sparrow and I'm looking for Elizabeth
Well, I guess that god was really listening
I can't believe my luck
Guess who just showed up looking perfect as fuck

It's Callie sitting in a dress at the party playing chess
I don't know much else about her but I'm already obsessed
Blue eyed baby with a smile that could switch up my plans
She's got me in the palm of her hands

I flew all this way and all I learned is that Anywhere I go, just like in Ancient Rome
Every single road always takes me home to

Callie sitting in a dress at the party playing chess
I don't know much else about her but I'm already obsessed
Blue eyed baby with a smile that could switch up my plans
She's got me in the palm of her hands

I'm coming home

Callie sitting in a dress at the party playing chess
I don't know much else about her but I'm already obsessed
Blue eyed baby with a smile that could switch up my plans
She's got me in the palm of her hands
