

Easier To Say

Grady

I'm going out another night
You knocked me down, so I get high
I try to bulletproof my pride, pulling triggers (Pulling triggers)
A double shot, two by my side
They ask "is everything alright"
I just keep going on like it never mattered

'Cause "Fuck that bitch" it's easier to say than to confront sadness
I'm dealing with the pain by yelling
"Fuck that bitch," it's easier to say than "I love you"
Yeah
"Fuck that bitch" it's easier to say than to confront sadness
I'm dealing with the pain by yelling
"Fuck that bitch," it's easier to say than "I love you"

But if I was being honest
It's just a coping mechanism and I'm sorry
I tried holding it together for the party, ey-ey but
But I saw a picture of you kissing and I lost my drink
I spilled liquor in the kitchen, vomit in the sink
I'm still bitter, acting like you don't mean a thing

'Cause "Fuck that bitch" it's easier to say than to confront sadness
I'm dealing with the pain by yelling
"Fuck that bitch," it's easier to say than "I love you"
Yeah
"Fuck that bitch" it's easier to say than to confront sadness
I'm dealing with the pain by yelling
"Fuck that bitch," it's easier to say than "I love you"
