

Open

Grady

Open the gates like breaking the wave
It's too quiet, so let's put something on
I'm red in the face and it's half 'cause I'm wasted
And half because you said you liked my songs

Ooh, idea's so pretty when it's spilling out
Ooh, and so much better when it's falling from your mouth

Are you open?
Are you done with the bullshit?
All the toxic emotions and the broken hearts
I was hoping we'd dive into the ocean
Both of our arms wide open
Underneath the stars

Two empty reds and the voice in my head
Saying this is what you were impatient for Smoke in the sea, there's no point for me to leave
You see the best in me and you point it out

Ooh, idea's so pretty when it's spilling out
Ooh, and so much better when it's falling from your mouth

Are you open?
Are you done with the bullshit?
All the toxic emotions and the broken hearts
I was hoping we'd dive into the ocean
Both of our arms wide open
Underneath the stars

I was hoping we'd dive into the ocean
Both of our arms wide open
Underneath the stars
Are you open?
Are you done with the bullshit?
All the toxic emotions and the broken hearts
