

Pressure

Grady

Cut a couple of cowards loose
Tied a rope around the truth
Easy to breathe without a noose
But it still hurts all the same
The mystery is solved
Everybody's involved
You took this too far
Consuming all my thoughts

And I don't want to think about it now or think about it ever a gain
Every single time you came around things seemed to get much bet ter
And it's a real shame that you're so bad at being honest
Why couldn't you tell the truth?
I don't want to think about it now but I can feel some pressure
in my head

What a big fucking risk
Wasn't pissed
But it was inconsiderate
You made my decisions for me
I was in the dark about the whole thing
Check up on what you doing
Internet is amusing
Listening to a song called "lying has to stop"
Come on, that's a little funny, don't you think?
You know, cause you lied

And I don't want to think about it now or think about it ever a
gain
Every single time you came around things seemed to get much bet
And it's a real shame that you're so bad at being honest
Why couldn't you tell the truth?
I don't want to think about it now but I can feel some pressure
in my head

Oh, I feel it
Kettle getting heated
Boy, I've got some tea I want to spill
Oh, I feel it
Kettle getting heated
It's cool I guess I've got some time kill
Oh, I feel it
Kettle getting heated
Boy, I've got some tea I want to spill
Oh, I feel it

Kettle getting heated
Whatever, I still wish you well
