

Keep Going

Graham Colton

It's a great big world and you feel itty bitty
A little fish in a big old city
Just keep swimming
There's a million trails to get where you're going
If you set your sails you'll find a deeper ocean
You're just beginning

And this boat you've been rowing
Is only gonna take you where the river is flowing
Yeah it's flowing
It might be today, maybe tomorrow
It's one foot down, let the other one follow
And keep going
Just keep going

When you look around and feel like you don't fit in Just run your own race no matter who's winning
There's no winning
They'll be ups and downs and roads that keep winding
Fountains of youth and mountains for climbing
There's no ending

And this book keeps unfolding
Spill the ink, rip the paper, let your story be told and
It keeps growing
When clouds come a-rolling
Hold on tight when the wind is blowing
And keep going
Keep going
Keep going
