Waiting For Love

Graham Colton

All the nights and every day
Thinking that this never would come
I've been too tired to fall asleep
And how it feels to finally wake up

I've been waiting for love
It has taken so long
The world's alive, I'm finally waking up
I've been waiting for you
There is nothing to lose
After all this time it's worth it all the while
Waiting for love

Draw the line through everything
All the light I never could see
I've given up on second tries
So how you found something in me

I've been waiting for love
It has taken so long
The world's alive, I'm finally waking up
I've been waiting for you
There is nothing to lose
After all this time it's worth it all the while
Waiting for love

Waiting for love
Waiting for love

I've been waiting for love
It has taken so long
Now I'm so alive I'm finally waking up
I've been waiting for you
There is nothing to lose
The world's alive, I'm finally waking
I'm so alive and all this time
I've been waiting for love
It has taken so long
After all this time it's worth it all the while
Waiting for love
Waiting for love
