

Beautiful Bad

Graham Coxon

You know I'd sail the stormy seas
Just for you to notice me
I'd fight a million wars
Just to lay down at your door

Now I found why I'm so glad
Though I know you are bad

Your power emanates
Through my soul, it resonates

Now I've got you near to me
I will never struggle free

You're beautiful bad
You're beautiful bad
You're beautiful bad
That's why I love you true

You're beautiful bad
You're beautiful bad
You're beautiful bad
That's why I love you true
