Drowning

Graham Coxon

The glowing red lights of your room
Banished all those hard years' gloom
The city screams from every view
Is there peace to find in you?

Fearless rhythms of existence
Stronger within your presence

Who knows what there's left to lose?
Thought I'd given all I could
To give myself up again
Boy I gotta be insane

Fearless rhythms of existence
Stronger within your presence
Ever closer to the end
Draw you near, begin again

I take a dive when the car arrives
I'm drowning again
And every time it pulls me down
I'm drowning again

Hold onto me as the waters rise
Drowning again
Hold onto me as the waters rise
Drowning again

Drowning again
Drowning again
