

We Breathe The Same Air

Graham Nash

Staring at the TV
And the traffic out my window
Anywhere my mind goes
It wanders back to you

Without you here beside me
And your love here to guide me
I'd hate to think of where I'd be
If you weren't coming home

Life isn't always fair
A game of truth or dare
Still there's something we can share

We breathe the same air
Under the same skies
So close your eyes and breathe
We breathe the same air
Under the same skies
So close your eyes and breathe

Wasting all my time
Without you here beside me
This house is cold and empty
And I feel so uninspired

Life isn't always fair
A game of truth or dare
Still there's something we can share

We breathe the same air
Under the same skies
So close your eyes and breathe
We breathe the same air
Under the same skies
So close your eyes and breathe

I'm so glad you're here
'Cause there is nothing beyond you
And it feels so good knowing you and I

We breathe the same air
Under the same skies
So close your eyes and breathe
