

Counterfeit

GRAHAM

Uh, she got a vendetta for people living better I told her keep her head up, cause nothing last forever
These prices on your sweater are not the best to measure
This price is not a pleasure, no, yeah

How you scroll on your phone then you wanna be like everybody e lse
Only time that she not alone when the likes poppin' on her cell
I told you (yeah, I told you)
Gotta be yourself

So why you want the love that's counterfeit
When these people that you follow care 'bout none of it
When these people you look up to try to cover it
So why you want the love that's counterfeit (counterfeit)

You learned another lesson from people who got questions
The numbers make you threaten, it's fueling your depression
You're different when you're texting to send another message
I guess that's all the lessons, yeah
Like all my looks efficient, do my clothes look the richest
I'm losing my ambition to be what they envisioned
It's nice with competition to make the worst decisions Get harder not give in

Uh, she got a vendetta for people living better I told her keep
her head up, cause nothing last forever
These prices on your sweater are not the best to measure
This price is not a pleasure

So why you want the love that's counterfeit
When these people that you follow care 'bout none of it
When these people you look up to try to cover it
So why you want the love that's counterfeit
