

One Touch

GRAHAM

Why don't we rest here for the night?
Why don't we trust that we're more than right?
Something about you when I looked into those eyes
Something about you says we're gonna be just fine

It only takes one touch and my head starts running
I play with my luck when the next change comin'
I, do you ever see me by your side?

Yeah, I get in my own way when I see you out and about
I wish that I would have the confidence to open up my mouth
Yeah, I know you wanna be friends, maybe
I wanna go to the end, baby
I can't hear my thoughts when all these doubts be gettin' loud
aye
Wake up, think about you
I love to be around you
Something that surrounds you
Don't feel the same without you
Vision lookin' cloudy soon as you get around me
Lately I've been doubting, oh lately

It only takes one touch and my head starts running
I play with my luck when the next change comin'
I, do you ever see me by your side?

Okay, I drink too much when I think about nothin'
They way that you look got the whole room crushin'
I, do you ever see me by your side?

Do you ever see me by your side?
