

Legions of Heroes

Grailknights

All legions of heroes and armies of might
Assemble your power for the ultimate fight
We welcome the day the one to end all days
Their fate is to fall by their own evil ways

My friend the end is here
I saw it coming but it felt so unreal
Daylight faded away
Darkness led me astray

Don't shed your tears in the starlight
See the fire that turns this night into day
Burning brighter than ever

Skies tear asunder
Black walls of thunder
We're leaving this world behind
Right at the end
I reach for your hand
I'm ready to guide you home

All legions of heroes and armies of might
Assemble your power for the ultimate fight
We welcome the day the one to end all days
Their fate is to fall by their own evil ways

I'm still the one beside you
On your stony path through wind, storm and rain
Time has sent me to serve
Your dark days will clear up again

When only shadows surround you
The pain of long lost days won't return
I assure you - will never return

Skies tear asunder
Black walls of thunder
We're leaving this world behind
I reach for your hand
I'm ready to guide you home

All legions of heroes and armies of might
Assemble your power for the ultimate fight
We welcome the day the one to end all days
Their fate is to fall by their own evil ways

Caught in fire
Born with one desire
Boundless power
Freed from the black realms of death in the end

All legions of heroes and armies of might
Assemble your power for the ultimate fight
We welcome the day the one to end all days
Their fate is to fall by their own evil ways

All legions of heroes and armies of might
Assemble your power for the ultimate fight
We welcome the day the one to end all days
