

Whatever Happened To

Granger Smith

There's a picture on my night stand
A blue eyed girl and a happy man
Yeah, whatever happened to that?
There's a closet with just my stuff
A mirror and a sink and one tooth brush
His and her towels that you didn't want back
I'm still watching that video
Of you and me in Mexico
So much in love, too much I didn't know

Whatever happened to
The sunny days, the love we made
The nights you said you loved me in the pouring rain
Dancing slow to the radio
Making wishes on the moon
Whatever happened to holding hands
Making plans
All gone now like footprints in the sand
I wish I knew
Whatever happened to

Sunday mornings when I wake up
It's just me and the cat and one coffee cup
Oh, I'm still not used to that
I should have seen your leaving coming
But I missed the signs
They say love can make you blind
Yeah, there's a lot of little truth to that
I try to go out with my friends
But in 2 hours I'm home again
Just to face another night that never ends

Whatever happened to
The sunny days, the love we made
The nights you said you loved me in the pouring rain
Dancing slow to the radio
Making wishes on the moon
Whatever happened to holding hands
Making plans
All gone now like footprints in the sand
I wish I knew
Whatever happened to
Yeah

I wonder if you're wondering too

Whatever happened to
The sunny days, the love we made
The nights you said you loved me in the pouring rain
Dancing slow to the radio
Making wishes on the moon
Whatever happened to holding hands
And making plans
All gone now like footprints in the sand
I wish I knew
Whatever happened to
Whatever happened to

Whatever happened to
Whatever happened to
The sunny days, the love we made
The nights you said you loved me in the pouring rain
Whatever, whatever happened to
