

Collide

Granian

I want you to corrupt me
I want you to make me bleed
I want to be your savior
I want to part your seas
Fill you up until you were whole again
I'd make you feel alive
So you don't feel so empty on the inside
I want to be your lover
Never just your friend
I swear I'll be beside you
Every chance I get
I wish you'd take me a little more seriously
When I say these things to you
But you act like you don't know who I'm talking to

With all of these thoughts pounding in my head
All of the words I wrote in a letter I never sent
Lines that you won't let me break
Times that you could never erase or change
Will our worlds collide the next time

I let you dig your hole too deep in me
Pretty soon you'll let me down again
Will I still see you in my sleep tonight
Will I still see you in my sleep tonight

I wanted you to linger
I want you on my mind
I swear I'll think about you
All the time
Take me a little more seriously
When I say to you
Don't act like you don't know who I'm talking to

With all of these thoughts pounding in my head
All of the words I wrote in a letter I never sent
Lines that you won't let me break
Times that you could never erase or change
Will our worlds collide the next time

I want you to corrupt me
I want you to make me bleed
I want to be your savior
