

Ever Do

Grant Gilbert

I always thought I'd wind up out west
See how far them Chevy horses get
Not stop till find out where the sunsets
Somewhere between Abilene
Desert sand and the Joshua tree
Shooting from the hip living on the run, yeah
I was lonesome roaming chasing a high
And I found it looking in to your eyes

I guess I always thought I'd be the cowboy in the song
That rides the wind ropes the moon never sticks around too long
Your kiss settled down my dust clouds
I found home when I found you
There's no looking for the next thing
Cause loving you's the best thing I'll ever do

Can't stop what you're born to do
Can't run the gospel truth
It's funny how what you ain't looking will find you
Yeah, I swear your touch is life itself
You were sent to save me from myself

I guess I always thought I'd be the cowboy in the song
That rides the wind ropes the moon never sticks around too long
Your kiss settled down my dust clouds
I found home when I found you
There's no looking for the next thing
Cause loving you's the best thing I'll ever do

I guess I always thought I'd be the cowboy in the song
That rides the wind ropes the moon never sticks around too long
Your kiss settled down my dust clouds
I found home when I found you
There's no looking for the next thing
Forever's in this diamond ring
And loving you's the best thing I'll ever do
