

I Don't Wanna Be That Guy

Grant Gilbert

I don't wanna be that guy but I just have to say
That you're looking drop dead in this dim-lit neon haze
We had a couple drinks and I asked what you were doing tomorrow night
And you gave me a look like it ain't the first time you've heard that line

But I don't wanna be that guy
Says he'll pick you up at eight but he's late every single time
I don't wanna be that type
That says he's gonna call but he don't, leaves you wondering why

If I could get you high
Make you feel just like the angel that you are
I don't wanna waste your time not getting it right, nah
I don't wanna be that guy

I don't wanna be that guy that don't walk you to the door
Who don't listen to your plans and your drama with your friends
Baby, tell me more
And you ain't gotta worry about being let down
No, not this time around

But I don't wanna be that guy
Says he'll pick you up at eight but he's late every single time
I don't wanna be that type
That says he's gonna call but he don't, leaves you wondering why

If I could get you high
Make you feel just like the angel that you are
I don't wanna waste your time not getting it right, nah
I don't wanna be that guy

But I don't wanna be that guy
Says he'll pick you up at eight but he's late every single time
I don't wanna be that type
That says he's gonna call but he don't, leaves you wondering why

If I could get you high
Make you feel just like the angel that you are
I don't wanna waste your time not getting it right, nah
I don't wanna be that guy
No, I don't wanna be that guy