Dead Words

Graveworm

One thousand words ready to die
One thousand thoughts of innocent life
From the ground of mankind
To the shadows of your past
In the shelter of my own dark light
The gates to life are closed now

Black velvet rise, dark is my soul
My hate that I can not control
Evil echos growing stronger
I carve your flesh – I am your god

Every night I see the fear inside
All alone I will restart again
Fearful screams, surrounded by the dead
I take your breath, until you fucking die

I hear the voice of the unknown
Distant screams of tortured souls
I let you walk to a new day
Into your worst nightmare

For all the blood, I feel dead inside
For all the fear – the memories refuse to fade
A final breath, the lies you trust
We share this hell – dead word ends

For all your hate, inside the ground you play
For all the dead, an empty shrine of hope
Betrayed by god, from black to red
We share this hell – dead words ends

Last day alive – I don't want to die
I feel the hate someday again you cry
Evil echos growing stronger
I carve your flesh – I'm your god

Every night I see the fear inside
All alone I will restart the night
Fearfull screams, surrounded by the dead
I take your breath, until you fucking die

I hear the voice of the unknown
Distant screams of tortured souls
I let you walk to a new day
Into your worst nightmare

One thousand words ready to die
One thousand thoughts of innocent life
From the ground of mankind
To the shadow of your past
