

Wrath of Gods

Graveworm

All we stare at night
For all our lives we fight the light
I can hear the soulless cry
We stand before the light - enslave the pain

All the blood the rage begins
The world's on fire
The end for all
You now shall pray

When the hunting demons awakens from sleep
Violent rage, welcomes the dead
Suffering in silence, I losing control
Embrace the madness, the devil's whore
A part of abhorrence, no presence of grace
Dwells in the depth, torments of hell
With the strength, the spiritual might
Embrace the madness, the wrath of gods

Ancient lies die at last
Nothing left to show
Down the path enlight the way
Vanished in the darkest fear
A thousand times, I'll rise again
The sacrifice for gods
For all the time, I'm still alive
Scream in endless pain

I am demon of your dreams
I am the fear of your gods
I am the dark beneath the scars
I am the end of your world
There is the dead inside my tears
Memories will disappear

Darkness rise, stare at night
Even I can't feel the hate
For all our lives we fight
The path for all mankind
I can see the dreadful eyes
Restless bodies stare at night
With blood in our hands
Searching for the end

Searching for the end
For the wrath of gods

When the hunting demons awakens from sleep
Violent rage, welcomes the dead
Suffering in silence, I losing control
Embrace the madness, the devil's whore
A part of abhorrence, no presence of grace
Dwells in the depth, torments of hell
With the strength, the spiritual might
Embrace the madness, the wrath of gods
