

Twice

Graveyard

I'm the one in control but I make no decisions
Well if you want to get in then the lie is alright
I am your reliable guide with a lack of orientation
I am the flash from your screen when you try to break it down
Why don't you stop ramble around, no promises done
You took the wrong turn long ago

No need to think twice
No need to think twice
Well I woke up this morning and I felt real sharp
I'm in the graveyard getting tuned hitting it hard
I'll be waiting for all of you to come along
I'll be waiting for you to show what went wrong

There's just one cure for you and for your kind
You keep to yours and I'll keep to mine
So you're their yes man with your hands behind your back
Why did you take us here no I won't be coming back

You used to be up front screaming like a piglet
Now you're making sure the ones below you know their place

No need to think twice
No need to think twice
Woke up this morning and I felt real sharp
I'm in the graveyard getting tuned hitting it hard
I'll be waiting for all of you to come along
I'll be waiting for you to show what went wrong

No I won't come back
Oh I won't come back
