

Dirty Bombs

Grayscale

Why are you scared of things that you don't know?
Try being different, try to lose control
Try stomping puddles let yourself get soaked
If you don't see the sun, you'll never grow
Listen to Elvis, try some rock-n-roll
That kinda thing will marinate your soul
Try harder drugs with friends when you get old
There's never push without some pull

I hate the people that you're hanging with
And how you let them get inside your head
Let's find some peace instead of arguing
Can't you find something else that's better than
Those dirty bombs that you're playing with?
Those dirty bombs that you're playing with

Why do you still go on the internet?
Who gives a fuck what those people think?
Just lonely souls that you never met
Why do you play with all of that?

I hate the people that you're hanging with
And how you let them get inside your head
Let's find some peace instead of arguing
Can't you find something else that's better than
Those dirty bombs that you're playing with?
Those dirty bombs that you're playing with

Why's everybody tryna play pretend?
Just be yourself, it's not so bad

I hate the people that you're hanging with
And how you let them get inside your head
Let's find some peace instead of arguing
Can't you find something else that's better than
Those dirty bombs that you're playing with?
Those dirty bombs that you're playing with
