

Say Something

Grayscale

Rain smacks the concrete
Outside the rails to your apartment steps
Where I can hear you crying
And it's anything but serene
The thought of lifting you off your feet
Or how we'd talk about getting married

Say something, be anyone
Say anything that will make this okay
And I hate that
You'll never remember us dancing in the living room
And I can't let go
I'm drowning in memories of hope and love
I'll meet you there
I just need you to tell me where

Tell me where we'll be in the next five years
Will it be anything like the past three?
You always said that you needed me
Now I can't tell the truth from the nonsense words
I can't go back there
Why won't you let it go?
Take me where I'll be the happiest

Say something, be anyone
Say anything that will make this okay
And I hate that
You'll never remember us dancing in the living room
And I can't let go
I'm drowning in memories of hope and love
I'll meet you there
I just need you to tell me where

I just need you to tell me where
Why won't you let it go?
Take me where I'll be the happiest

So say something, be anyone
Say anything that will make this okay
And I hate that
You'll never remember us dancing in the living room
And I can't let go
I'm drowning in memories of hope and love
I'll meet you there
I just need you to tell me where
