My youth
It's fading and growing weary
I spend my whole life waiting for something new
Can you feel it?
'Cause there's no sight of you that changes the way I see you
The way that I see you
I'm waiting for something new
I'm waiting for something new

I wanna watch your memories
Make you break from losing people
I wanna see the pain on your face
Maybe then you'd know your place
When there's nothing left at all
But drugs and alcohol
You don't know where I've been
I hope you wake up sad everyday

Can you feel it?
Could you feel it all along?

Can you feel it?
Could you feel it all along?

Could you feel it all along?
