YOUNG

Feel like I'm powering down
Pull my plug, I'm ready to go out
Get me out, get me out, I'm falling
Doubled up on pills I take to sleep
They don't do anything for me
Pull me out, pull me out, I'm drowning

I'm a man in an unmade bed
Breaking apart every word you said
I'm so tired of seeing red
Said you want to have a graceful end
Feel the light burn inside your head
My god, we're sick of seeing red

I think I'm better than
Just giving up in the pouring rain
I think I'd rather love than
Be a heart of stone that can't be saved
Give it all, give it all, give it all
Give it all 'til it all gets better
Get it all, get it all, get it all
Young blood not going to waste

Spend nights here paying my respects
Projector scrolls through all we had
Get me out, get me out, I'm falling
Don't let me stay a memory
A song you skip past shuffling
Pull me out, pull me out, I'm drowning

I'm a man in an unmade bed
Breaking apart every word you said
I'm so tired of seeing red
Said you want to have a graceful end
Feel the light burn inside you head
My god, we're sick of seeing red

I think I'm better than
Just giving up in the pouring rain
I think I'd rather love than
Be a heart of stone that can't be saved
Give it all, give it all, give it all
Give it all 'til it all gets better
Get it all, get it all, get it all
Young blood not going to waste

We let everyone slip to a place
Where they can't reach the edge
Can't get out of their own way
Wicked space where we hide inside
Where it rains every day and every night
So sing, sing if you got something to say
Never gonna see the light
If you don't speak in the first place
Sorry eyes, said you'd rather stay asleep
'Cause your semblance of reality is Better in your dreams

Do you remember when it wasn't so hard?
Sick of seeing all these kids with their arms scarred
Gotta wonder how we let it get this far

I think I'm better than
Just giving up in the pouring rain
I think I'd rather love than
Be a heart of stone that can't be saved
Give it all, give it all, give it all
Give it all 'til it all gets better
Get it all, get it all, get it all
Young blood not going to waste

Give it all 'til it all gets better
Young blood not going to waste