

Black Winter

Great American Ghost

Wash away with industrial waste
Swallow the smog, spit it back in your face
Peel off the skin, swim in a sea of acid rain
All of this for progression's sake
Feel the manipulation
Veins wired for automation
Obey the circuits embedded in the skin
Led to the grave under ground we've poisoned

We won't say a word
We won't see a thing
This is our setting sun
This is our life undone

Black
Black winter
It all goes black
Black winter

Silence the sounds of the human connection
There is no peace when it all comes crashing down
Darkened skies billow suffocation
No one will save us, no one will save us as we drown
Pressure cracks the core
Bile spills past your teeth
Wires connect us all
And bring you to your knees

We won't say a word
We won't see a thing
This is our setting sun
This is our life undone

Black
Black winter
It all goes black
Black winter
Black
Black winter
It all goes black
Black winter

Shallow vessels filled with hate and greed
Nothing is sacred, no one is free
Sink into an ocean of blood
Ashes fall from the heavens above
We build these fucking empires just to watch them fucking burn
Burn
