

You Don't Look at Me the Same

Great Good Fine OK

Got too comfortable, thought that we were good
Didn't think that love could fluctuate
Now I'm in too deep, stuck inside a maze
Hoping that you feel me when I say

I'm not sure, not certain, that what we have is perfect
But I don't want it any other way
And I know that you're hurting but I wanna put the work in now
I'm so afraid.

Cause you don't look at me the same
You don't look at me the same
I recognize that tone when you say my name
Cause you don't look at me the same

Walk into the room, it's been an awful day,
Something feels off and out of place
I don't know why the light is missing from your face
Hoping it's lost and not erased.

I'm not sure, not certain, that what we have is perfect
But I don't want it any other way
And I know that you're hurting but I wanna put the work in now
I'm so afraid.

Cause you don't look at me the same
You don't look at me the same
I recognize that tone when you say my name
Cause you don't look at me the same

So if you're done finding love you should let me know
Holding on, does you wrong, gotta let me go

Cause you don't look at me the same
You don't look at me the same
I recognize that tone when you say my name
Cause you don't look at me the same
